Spiritual Life Includes Masses, Convalescent Homes

Sr. Helen M. Mence, SND, Religion II. Sr. Karen Coakley, SND, Religion II

Mr. Arthur St. Germain: Religion III IV

Under Father Carini, the Religion Department attempted to reach all students at St. Bernard. Classes ranged from Religion I to Oriental Religions. Students teach Monday afternoons at Mystic Oral School. Junior-Senior night began with a Mass on the patio planned by the juniors. The last school day before Christmas began with a Mass for the entire student body in the gym planned by the Student Council. Vocation week gave students a glimpse of the religious life. Encounters and Search Programs involved many students. Morning Advent Wreath Services and Penance Services helped prepare for Christmas. Daily Masses and class Masses were additional opportunities. The Service Club, under Sr. Magdalen Marie, collected goods for the poor and brought students to visit the lonely in nearby convalescent homes.

Five-Point Plan Developed

Mr. James F. Powers, Dean of Students

Sr. Marion Julie O'Leary, SND, Assistant Principal

St. Bernard High School's administration, under the leadership of Father Boisvert and Sr. Marion, continued to develop innovative education. In conjunction with the newly developed Principal's Advisory Board and the Parents' Council, a lay Board of Trustees was established and a five-year plan was developed to give St. Bernard's a sound financial future.

"I have two eggs and one chow mein to go."

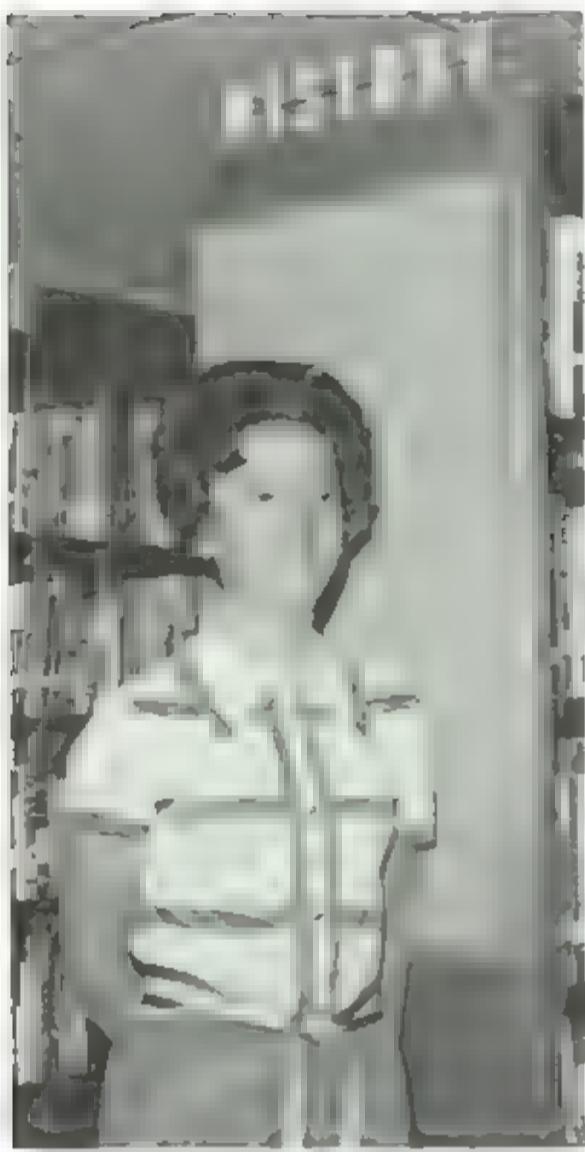

Mr. Ronan H. Lacey, Western Civilization, U. S. History, Freshmen football, basketball, and baseball coach

Mr. Wayland Q. Currie, American Studies, U. S. History, Economics

The Social Studies Department, headed by Sister Doris Trudel, offers many interesting cultural courses dealing with foreign and domestic affairs. Students can choose from courses which trace the Western civilization from its beginnings to the present. A course dealing specifically with World War I and World War II is also available for study. Students examine their American heritage with the use of such aids as filmstrips and resource literature. Field trips, such as those to Chinatown and the New York Stock Exchange, are educational experiences.

Sophomore Wally Spence, M.V.W. in Valley Regional Xmas Tourney and first place in the U.S. Federation Freestyle state championships, is the youngest member of the foursome. Junior Bob Walsh continues to excel in competition. Bob took first place in the Connecticut Invitational and is working on an undefeated string that stretches back more than forty matches. Seniors Jeff Spence and John Satti are the leaders of the team. Both Satti and Spence have won over 50 matches, have over 100 pins and finished among the top three in Freestyle and Conn. Invitational Tourney.

Coach Eaton Spearheads Wrestling Success

Within three years, under the direction of Coach Eaton, the Saint wrestlers defeated almost every school in the region and became a top team in the state. Coach Eaton's grapplers had a season that was highlighted by a Christmas tourney championship, victories over Waterford and Killingly, and the HCC title. The year was completed with the sectional and state tourneys in which the Saints continued their winning ways.

Another bit of history is launched

The sea and ships. The men who sail them. And those who build them. Together they've shaped one of New England's finest traditions. From the nation's early seafaring days, New England-made ships have added strength to U.S. commerce and to its naval influence

They still do

Today, in Mystic, you can see the stately square-riggers of old, the tall masted ones with a glorious past. While in Groton, at

General Dynamics, we're building what may be the most advanced technical project in the world—the nuclear powered submarine

General Dynamics is proud of its role in continuing a great heritage. It's a role in which you may someday wish to participate. If you're going on to higher education or advanced technical training, why not at the start give a thought to nuclear submarine construction as a possible career?

Hi Darling. It may be 22 years late but I think your as gorgeous then as you are now. I love you so very much and that will never change. NOT in more years and I'm sure you'll still be as gorgeous. I love making love to you what ever your doing up. Go we can keep it up. HTB up Love always, Jennifer
